Forecast For Wales
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 02 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cloudy overnight with patchy drizzle. Sunny spells developing Friday afternoon.

This Evening and Tonight:
Most of the country will be cloudy overnight, with patchy drizzle, particularly over higher ground. Southern and western areas may receive a few spells of late sunshine then clear spells overnight, allowing temperatures to drop here. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Friday:
Cloudy for many through the morning, with some drizzle. Turning dry for all as cloud breaks up into the afternoon, creating widespread sunny spells, lengthiest in the south and west. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Largely dry with sunny spells on Saturday. Dry again on Sunday, though cloudier. Outbreaks of rain may move into the north overnight and could linger into Monday. Turning warmer.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.